

REP. GOTT GIVES REASONS FOR PROPOSED SALES TAX

Outlines Financial Condition of State. Tells Expenses that Must be Borne by Cities and Towns and Gives Sources of Revenue.

Financial Standing High, Says Rep. Gott

Arlington's financial standing is high, said Rep. Hollis M. Gott, the other day. The town has not, Mr. Gott stated in reply to questions, borrowed money in anticipation of revenue to be received in 1934, 1935, and 1936 from the taxation of domestic dividends, nor on accumulated tax titles. That many towns have done this Mr. Gott states in his article which appears in this issue of the Advocate.

To show further the town's high standing, Mr. Gott said that while during the past year the total funded debt of all the cities and towns of the state had been decreased $569,000, Arlington's funded debt had been decreased $200,000.

The representative added that in order to maintain this high standing both efficiency and economy in government will be necessary. This makes it extremely important to elect officials of ability and high character.

Local Girl Scouts Second in State

Arlington Girl Scout Council has received the distinction of being second in the State in achievement, according to a recent communication from Miss Helen F. Potter, State Director by Mrs. James W. Kidder, commissioner.

The achievement record is based on the number of Girl Scouts in proportion to population, the number who re-register, the increase in number of new members, advancement in Scout rank of each Scout, the length of time which girls remain Scouts and advancement made in general Scout activity. A report of the Arlington Council is made annually to the National Headquarters by Mrs. Greta R. Towne, director.

The girls have also made a record in camping, according to Mrs. Walter N. Rothschild, chairman of the National camp committee of the Girl Scouts.

Arlington reports for the past year a total of over two hundred Girl Scouts in camps during the year. This is a tremendous increase over 1932 and 1933 shows a tendency to increase the 1933 figures. Already eighty-nine different girls have attended winter day camping at Cedar Hill since January 1. Approximately one hundred and fifty girls spent more than one session at winter and summer day camps in 1933 while over fifty girls were in permanent camps for two or more weeks. These figures do not include girls who attended church or family camps.

Seven leaders and council members attended a Two Week National Training course in a national training camp and twenty were on camp staffs during the summer.

The local camping committee, headed by Mrs. Harold Yeames, will make special efforts this year to have every Girl Scout in the council have camping experience.

The "Perfect Plot" Kills Them All

The six different interpretations of "The Perfect Plot" presented by the Friends of the Drama last evening at the Middlesex Sportsman's Association clubhouse provided a most unique entertainment for the large audience. Six interpretations were presented of the simple plot of a mistaken shooting of a man and a woman by an irate husband. Marjorie Manning was program director and responsible for the idea and its development.

The English playwright, Aubrey Ensor, was responsible for the first three plays with this same theme. The title of the first production was "Gloom" or "The Sister Who Got to Moscow" as Anton Tchekov would write it. The cast: Masha, Mrs. Eben Lufkin; Alexander Athandsevitch, Earl G. Lewis; and a Man, Philip Burt. This was coached by Mrs. Lufkin.

The infuriated husband entered the wrong flat, shot the wrong man and woman, so the outcome was a perfect flop.

The second play was called "Pri-

V. F. W. INVITES PUBLIC TO OPEN NIGHT NEXT WEEK

Special Program Thursday at Junior High East.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1775 will hold open night next Thursday evening at Junior High East to which the public is invited free. 26th Division War Pictures taken in France by official Y. D. Photographer, Major Cooper, will be shown. There will be a lecture by Major Atkins. The High School band will play musical selections. The guest speakers will be Hon. Patrick A. McCarran, United States Senator from Nevada; Henry V. O'Day, State Adjutant, and Francis X. Cotter, Legislative Officer. Accordion selections will be played by a well known artist.

Leaders in civic and business circles of the State and Town will join with the Veterans in conjunction with the third annual radio broadcast by Commander-in-Chief James Van Sandt, in the obligation of recruits to the V. F. W.

Spurred by the knowledge that now more than ever Veterans need co-operation of all ex-service men who are eligible they are urged to take this opportunity to join.

The program's greatest appeal to the Veterans will lie in the formal obligation ceremony, as Commander-in-Chief James E. VanSandt stands before the microphone at Washington, D. C., and voices the solemn oath to recruits gathered together throughout the country.

A second highlight of the "Hello America" hour will be a vivid dramatic sketch based on historical fact, "Remember the Maine," written especially for the occasion by Willis Cooper, continuity Editor of the National Broadcasting Co. The miniature drama will portray the sinking of the U. S. Battleship Maine in the harbor of Havana.

At the hour of 9:40 p. m. on the 15th of February each year, every member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, wherever he may be, comes to attention for one minute, paying due tribute to the memory of the heroes of '98 who made up the most colorful army in the history of the world, every man a volunteer, the A. E. F. of 1898, Junior Vice Commander M. J. Geary, chairman, assisted by an able committee, has arranged the program.

With the election of three judges who will award the prizes for the best costumes and the release of a long list of patrons and patronesses arrangements are complete.

Selectman George H. Lowe and Leonard Collins had just finished addressing the assembly when Terjelian asked for recognition. Refused, he was angered and is said to have become belligerent.

PURCHASES MADE HERE REDUCE TOWN TAX RATE

Mr. Eastman Tells Chamber of Commerce. Urges Selling Town to Townspeople. Window Decorating Prizes Awarded.

"One hundred thousand dollars purchased in Boston takes out of Arlington twenty-five thousand dollars as permanent wealth which, if it had been left in Arlington, would reduce the tax rate." This was the statement made by Joel W. Eastman, a Boston lawyer, who addressed the largest gathering for a long time of members and friends of the Chamber of Commerce at Wyman's Tavern Tuesday evening. The subject of the inspiring address was "The Chamber of Commerce at Work."

Mr. Eastman continued by saying that all Chambers were torn by conflicting emotions but the Chamber of Commerce, which never gets any larger than those emotions, dies. Not the individual but Arlington is the biggest thing — it is good business to make Arlington the ideal. He told his hearers that they could cause the residents of this fair town to be more Arlington conscious, thus making this home building town larger and better.

An Arlingtonian obtains no greater return from a Boston purchase than from an ordinary purchase in Arlington. More purchases in Arlington provide a permanent wealth which forms a base for taxation, thus reducing the rate for all other residents. The speaker exhorted his hearers to assume leadership in everything that was fine and beautiful in order to more easily sell the town to the people of the town.

Good stores mean a better town but stores need customers. When the people become more Arlington conscious, they will spend more money in the stores.

POLICE CHIEF MAKES PLANS TO BAR ESCAPE AVENUES

Police Chief Archie F. Bullock has completed plans whereby all avenues of escape from Arlington will be barred immediately in the event of a crime here similar to that which happened in Needham last week. Chief Bullock is working in conjunction with the police of Belmont, Woburn, Winchester, Medford, Somerville and Cambridge, and in these towns the ways of escape will likewise be closed. The plan of the general hook-up is posted near the booking desk in each station.

In this hook-up the police car, equipped with a two-way radio, plays an important part. Scout cars will, it is expected, be equipped with repeating rifles in whose use the police officers will be trained.

Chief Bullock has advised bank officials to install tear gas bombs and guns in each bank building. He has issued instructions as to the use of these weapons against holdup men and in all probability his advice will be followed.

The Selectmen have set aside the following streets for coasting: Crescent Hill avenue, Washington street, Eastern avenue, Florence avenue and Churchill avenue. Signs have been posted on these streets warning motorists of the presence of the coasters and the corners have been sanded.

Riot Case Comes up in Cambridge Court Today

The case against Stephen Terjelian of 94 Webster street, charged with disturbing a public assembly, comes up in the East Cambridge district court today.

The trouble occurred last Sunday afternoon during the meeting held in Robbins Memorial Town Hall by Arlington Armenians to protest against the Dashnag party, eight of whose members are charged with the assassination of Archbishop Tourain. Selectman George H. Lowe and Leonard Collins had just finished addressing the assembly when Terjelian asked for recognition. Refused, he was angered and is said to have become belligerent.

SCOUTS TO GET MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT TOMORROW

These are history making days in Scouting. One of the features of Anniversary Week will be held tomorrow. A mobilization of Scouts and Scouters of Arlington will be enacted in the High School Auditorium at 11:30 in the forenoon. Scouts will have friends and parents as their guests. They will listen to a broadcast from President Roosevelt over two national hook-ups at twelve noon. He will talk to the nearly 1,000,000 members of the Boy Scouts of America, and ask that they perform some specific civil service, the nature of which will not be known until the president announces it.

Co-operation will probably be needed from the public and various agencies under the new deal. It will be a National Good Turn. It is hoped that there will be a good turnout to report back to Honorary President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Large Audience Hears

Last Science Lecture

Professor Kirtley F. Mather, head of the geological department of Harvard, addressed a large audience Sunday night at the First Parish Church and concluded a series of scientific lectures sponsored by the three centre churches. His subject was "The Future of the Earth as the Abode of Man." This was the only lecture which was not illustrated with stereopticon views or by moving pictures. But, in spite of this, it proved to be the most inspiring of the series.

The speaker expressed the belief that the physical end of the earth might take place a few billion years in the future and that it might be destroyed by a large star coming in close proximity just as he believes the earth was formed in the first place by a large star passing too close to the sun. The end would not come about by the exhaustion of the heat of the sun as this is adequate for many billion years.

The professor reviewed briefly the previous lectures and brought his hearers to the present time with the statement that the greatest urge of the entire animal kingdom, including man, was security. To secure security in the future the program of the animal kingdom in the past must be improved.

The population of the earth has doubled in the past seventy years, and up to the present time the program has been to expand and cover the earth. But now, just as we are adopting a program of restriction, horsepower has been developed and increased enormously, bringing about the depression.

Looking far into the future, the geologist warned against a state of individualism because rugged individualism has always failed in every instance of geological history from the dinosaurs down. This attempt at existence at the expense of his fellow creatures will fail; we must learn to develop a social morality, human values must be placed ahead of any others with less emphasis on the individual and more on the group. Personality must be developed, yet each should be able, through love, to live in perfect harmony with his fellow man. A comprehensive social consciousness should develop with the spirit of good will taught by Jesus of Nazareth.

Rev. John Nicol Mark presided.

Rev. Rubens Rea Hadley read selections, the prayer was offered by Rev. Laurence L. Barber and Dowell P. MacNeill entertained the appreciative audience with organ selections.

The contest closes March 24th, and all papers must be in before then.

"When Youth Comes of Age" at the First Parish

"When Youth Comes of Age" was the topic of the sermon preached last Sunday — Young People's Sunday — at the First Parish church by Verne Scott Follansbee, a student at the Crane

Verne Scott Follansbee

Theological School of Tufts College and teacher in the First Parish Church School.

"We are fortunate," said Mr. Follansbee, "in living in a time when the native idealism of youth is given the spiritual freedom which it needs. It must be realized that this great freedom implies greater responsibilities. Every young person should make decisions to use his freedom wisely and effectively."

Among the problems that youth has to face today, he mentioned the relationships between the young man and the young woman, that of religion and science, which are allies and not enemies of the control of liquor, and of the religion of tomorrow.

In conclusion he said, "It will be the young people who must put into practice the ideals of world peace, of a fair, honest government and political system. From the ranks of youth will come the great artists, thinkers, and statesmen of tomorrow. They will soon be sitting at the wheels of industry, and guiding this great nation of ours through the years to come. Let us realize that youth is the foundation of the church of tomorrow."

Louise Turner, president of the Girl Club, had charge of the service. Edward Sanger conducted the responsive reading service, Marjorie Cutler read the Scripture. The ushers were four members of the Girl Club — Horace Homer, Robert Wellington, Robert Turner and Russell Wise.

The Young People's choir, appearing for the first time in their new blue robes, sang.

Local Prize Fighter Defeats Rival in Garden

Arthur Cardinal, who is employed at Charles B. Perham Inc., gasoline filling station, 1211 Massachusetts avenue, advanced still further last Friday night at the Boston Garden in his upward march to fistic fame when he clearly outpointed his rival, a 175-pound war-horse, Leo Curley, of Providence, in one of the four-round preliminary bouts. Curley provided some of the comedy of the evening and yet he hits hard but Cardinal avoided the most devastating blows and paid him back with interest for a clean cut victory.

OSTEOPATHIC HOSPITAL ASKS CHARITY CLINIC FUNDS

Since its founding six years ago, the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital in Jamaica Plain, Boston, has been quietly conducting a type of service not duplicated by any charitable hospital in New England.

Although without endowment and dependent entirely upon contributions from its friends, the hospital has maintained during these six years an out-patient department given over entirely to the care of those urgently needing osteopathic treatment, but without funds to pay for it.

This Charity Clinic is under the direction of Dr. A. F. McWilliams assisted by a staff of leading osteopathic physicians of Greater Boston. Dr. McWilliams and his staff give their time and services, without pay, to the men, women and children, who wait in a long line at the hospital each morning from 8 to 10 to be examined and treated.

The trustees of the hospital are facing a more acute problem this year than ever in meeting the increased demands upon this Charity Clinic. In asking contributions from the public they are hopeful that their sixth annual birthday appeal, during the week of March 4th to 11th will meet with more than ordinary success.

Dr. John A. MacDonald, one of the trustees, in discussing this appeal said, "Even in normal times it has been a real problem adequately to meet all the demands made upon our Charity Clinic. We are glad and want to give our time and services to everyone who need it, but unless we receive a particularly generous response to our birthday appeal this year, we may be forced to curtail this splendid work."

The junior members of the American Legion Auxiliary held their meeting at the home of their chairman, Miss Helen Beaudet, 168 Medford street. The meeting was opened by Mrs. Marion Keefe and turned over to Helen Beaudet. At roll call there were thirteen members present.

It was planned that the Juniors would make scrapbooks to be given to the children's hospitals, and also knit squares to be used in the making of afghans for the Veterans' hospitals.

Miss Marion Hayes was appointed treasurer. Four new members were welcomed into the group through the efforts of Mrs. Jean Beaudet. Refreshments were served and a pleasant afternoon was spent by all.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lois Meserve, 79 Melrose street, at 4 p. m. on February 28th.

Fletcher Taft Speaks To Citizens' Committee

The Arlington Citizens' Committee held an enthusiastic meeting at its headquarters at 671 Massachusetts avenue last Tuesday evening. Further campaign plans were discussed and all arrangements were made to carry the fight on till election day.

The guest speaker of the evening was Fletcher Taft, editor of the Lexington Minute. The Honorable Nelson B. Crosby and the Honorable Hollis Gott spoke briefly on governmental and town problems, and expressed confidence in the work of the Citizens' Committee.

Many of the Citizens' Committee candidates spoke briefly and Ernest Davis, candidate for Selectman, closed the speaking with some details of the work of the Finance Committee. He assured the gathering that a continuation of low tax bills is absolutely dependent on economy in government, and that in the coming election the voters would do well to keep this fact in mind.

REP. GOTT GIVES REASONS FOR PROPOSED SALES TAX

In 1933 there was a reduction in expenditures for government in Massachusetts. The appropriations by cities and towns in 1932 were $276,867,537, and in 1933 the appropriations were $231,727,781. It must be admitted that a large part of that $45,000,000 reduction was due to the postponement, or elimination of capital outlay. In all fairness to our local governments it must be said that economy has been practised, at least in our towns.

Federal Help in 1933

All forms of revenue from corporations, income taxes, and all other sources were lessened in 1933. Real estate was relieved, fortunately, by virtue of a great deal of Federal money being expended, and some appropriations were cared for by borrowed money, and because the Federal government returned to the State a certain amount for public welfare. Although Federal money helped the tax on real estate in 1933 we cannot lose sight of the fact that we must some time pay the bill because government has no money except that money which comes from the people. Government cannot borrow money and not pay it back, and we cannot receive financial aid from government unless we pay the bill. Government is the people. Of three billions of dollars that the Federal government has authorized to be spent on a recovery program, the state of Massachusetts must pay about 6% or $180,000,000. If the Federal government spends ten billions, as some predict, our share of that bill will be $600,000,000.

In 1932 real estate in Massachusetts was assessed $210,754,735 and in 1933 real estate was assessed $190,683,188. That shrinkage will not help, of course, unless our appropria-

MOTORISTS IN TROUBLE CALL B. & F. AUTO SERVICE

Winter driving has hardships which many motorists experience, but they are made easier by the day and night road service established by the B. & F. Auto Service which has made this concern now an established institution.

Many a motorist has wondered what he would do if his automobile went out of commission miles from home, with no garages nearby, and all ordinary facilities for meeting one's needs apparently out of reach. All one has to do under such unfortunate circumstances is to get word to the B. & F. Auto Service which makes a special feature of all day and all night road service, which is dependable and reliable despite weather and road conditions.

This is truly a service which should not be minimized, for it is especially in the winter time that the motorist is beset with troubles. A patch of ice may send the car down into a ditch, parking too long out in the cold may freeze up the motor, making starting impossible.

However, a telephone call to the B. & F. Auto Service, day phone, Arl. 3957 and at night tel. Lex. 0424, will soon bring a service man to the scene to render whatever aid is necessary.

This garage employs experienced and skillful auto mechanics who know their trade and can render prompt and efficient service. The cost is reasonable. This well equipped shop can also repair damaged automobile bodies, recover auto tops; install glass, do fine auto painting, and render all around motor repair service which will keep one's car in good condition during the winter driving period.

The B. & F. Auto Service is located at 1293 Massachusetts avenue, Arlington Heights.

tions are also reduced. If our appropriations remain the same it makes no difference whether we have a high valuation and a low tax, or a low valuation and a high tax. Can we raise $190,000,000 by real estate taxes in 1934? It seems quite clear that the Federal government is getting to the end of the amount of money which it can freely distribute either in direct contribution or in work projects. We cannot close our eyes to the fact that when the work projects of the Federal government, such as the C. W. A., cease, the public welfare rolls are likely to be increased substantially, and there is evidence that public welfare and relief work generally, will be the vital problem for 1934.

Borrowing in Anticipation

This, in any event is certain, that in 1933 real estate was relieved by at least two things that cannot recur in 1934. These two things are the following:—1. By passing a law in 1933 permitting the taxation of domestic dividends, there was provision that cities and towns could borrow in anticipation of that revenue the state expected to receive in 1934, 1935, and 1936, the money to be used to reduce the tax against real estate in 1933. Under that chapter (which is numbered 307) cities and towns, at least 63 of them, did borrow $12,217,053. These towns cannot possibly have that revenue in 1934 because they have taken anticipated revenue for the next three years, and used it all in a single year, 1933. It is estimated that the revenue to the State from this new source will be about $8,000,000 per year or $24,000,000 for the three year period and each city and town will receive its proportionate share.

II. There was also a provision permitting cities and towns to borrow on tax titles which had accumulated, and 42 cities and towns borrowed on tax titles to the extent of $6,418,000. Adding this amount to the relief afforded under Chapter 307, i. e. the $12,217,053 mentioned above, it means that $18,000,000 is definitely out of the picture as not being available to the cities and towns to reduce their 1934 tax on real estate. Therefore, unless the cities and towns can reduce their expenditures at least $18,000,000 in 1934, then $18,000,000 will have to be raised by a direct tax on real estate.

The Governor proposed that $10,000,000 of the gasoline tax be used this year to help out the State tax. In 1933 that was done. However, if the gasoline tax is not thus used in 1934 the cities and towns must make up that amount. There is, therefore, the possibility of real estate having this $10,000,000 also added, and it will fall on real estate unless it is diverted from the Highway Fund.

Income Tax Increase Unwise

It is probably unwise to further increase the tax on incomes, because incomes are small and any larger tax would result in driving this revenue source out of the Commonwealth, to a substantial extent. That is the opinion of the Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation. It should be borne in mind that only 6% of our population pay income taxes.

BIG VARIETY IN MENU AT HAMILTON'S LUNCH

For more than ten years the name Hamilton's Lunch has been synonymous with good food in the minds of many Arlington people, who have found by experience that this restaurant is a good place at which to eat.

Variety in everything will be found at Hamilton's Lunch. Every effort is made to change the menu as frequently as possible and new and accepted dishes that famous cooks and chefs concoct quickly find their way to the table of this well-known restaurant, which is popular with both men and women.

Special Sunday dinners are served at Hamilton's Lunch and many are the family dinner parties there each week-end. It's a real treat for wives and mothers to eat out once in a while.

Hamilton's Lunch is a good place to eat whether one drops in for merely a sandwich or a regular meal. The fact that many persons eat there regularly shows that they find the service satisfactory in every detail.

A meal at Hamilton's Lunch, 434 Massachusetts avenue, will convince anyone that the food is of good quality, and served in a tasty and appetizing manner. The check will be reasonable, and what more could one expect or desire in any eating place?

Hamilton's Lunch also provides a catering service.

QUALITY GAS AND OIL AT MEAD'S SERVICE STATION

Driving in winter requires more care than at any other season of the year. Motorists must be careful about lubrication, for the elements bring added hardships to motors and gears. This is the time of year when you should check the oil and grease in your car very carefully.

Motorists have always found that a higher grade of oil makes the motor run smoother during the zero weather. Poor lubricants are hard on the bearings and only serve to cut down the life of a car. If you have not already learned this, now is the time to take heed, in order to lengthen the life of your car.

Jenney gasoline and oils which are sold at Mead's Service Station are as fine as may be obtained anywhere.

Greasing is another feature of the service rendered and Mead's Service Station has the facilities to do a first class lubricating job.

Lee Tires and Perrine Batteries are sold at Mead's Service Station, located at 887 Massachusetts avenue.

It is also feared that increased rates on corporations, commercial and savings banks, and insurance companies would do more harm than good. If they cannot prosper our unemployment problem would be aggravated, and the security of those institutions would be weakened.

It is well to bear in mind, also, that insurance companies, savings banks, and cooperative banks are largely invested in real estate, and that whatever affects real estate affects those institutions, and whatever affects those institutions affects those who are depositors in, or borrowers from them. Every dollar that is deposited in our savings banks is represented by a nearly 60 cents loan on real estate. In other words, the aggregate deposits in the savings banks in Massachusetts are $2,024,738,843, and of that amount $1,193,422,146 is invested in mortgage loans.

There seems to be a disposition to let real estate continue to carry the load. Possibly real estate can out-ride the storm but there must be in the mind of everyone the idea that there is more than real estate tied up in the problem; that through loans, deposits, insurance contracts, etc., our financial institutions are most decidedly to be thought of when we crowd real estate owners too hard, and burden real estate with taxes beyond its strength to carry. It is a fact that real estate taxes are being paid out of the savings of small home owners. In thousands of cases the owners are not paying their taxes out of their present earnings, but out of their capital. When taxes cannot be paid, foreclosure usually results and during 1933 in this State our Savings banks foreclosed on property valued at over $68,000,000. Much of that property was again sold but the amount of foreclosed property now in the possession of our Savings banks, and the savings departments of Trust companies, is about $71,000,000.

Increases in respect to uncollected taxes as of January 1st, 1934 make clear that it is still difficult, and growing, increasingly difficult for the real estate owner to pay his taxes. We are facing a shortage, because, while we have definitely assessed real estate, all of it is not being paid. If money comes in, our cities and towns can continue to give service. If cash cannot be collected and it is necessary to sell the real estate, then we may borrow, but we cannot continue to live, or to receive the public services we have been enjoying, on expected future income.

18% Pay Real Estate Taxes

It is interesting to know that, throughout the State, only about 18% of our population pays 85% of

CLARK BROTHERS PROVIDE EXCELLENT FUEL SERVICE

How's that furnace working this winter? Is your home heated when you wake in the morning, or is it chilled to such an extent that your first hour must be devoted to "firing up?"

Can you leave your furnace unattended for hours, secure in the belief that the temperature of your home will remain even? Or does that furnace require constant attention, constant changing of drafts?

If the operation of the furnace is not satisfactory, it may be due to either of two reasons. You need a new furnace or you're burning the wrong kind of fuel.

This discussion only concerns the fuel. Many persons are not aware of the vital relation of fuel to satisfactory heating. It must be of good quality which burns evenly, yielding a maximum of heat with a minimum of ash if you are to realize the best results.

Most of those persons who know the value of good fuel, purchase it from Clark Brothers of 244 Massachusetts avenue, North Cambridge. This concern supplies Best American Anthracite, New England Coke, Petrokardon and Mystic Briquets for furnace and boiler use, and also has range and fuel oil for oil burning units.

A call to Porter 0168-0169 will bring this prompt and satisfactory solution to the winter's heating problems.

Clark Brothers have been at this same location for forty years.

the total appropriations of our cities and towns. In towns like Arlington, Lexington, Winchester and Belmont, which are distinctly towns of homes, where there is very little business property except stores, a very much larger percentage of our population is in the class of home owners, and the problem of real estate taxes more seriously concerns those people, than it concerns the residents of the large cities where the bulk of the population lives in apartment houses. It is often argued that a person paying rent pays taxes indirectly, but at present so many families have doubled up, and there are so many cases of even three families living in one rent, that there are now more living quarters than persons seeking them. This has resulted in owners taking whatever rent they can get, and the average has been below a fair return, and in many cases not equal to interest and taxes.

The relief of real estate has been so long delayed that it will take several years of real prosperity to get back into real estate the values that have been lost. Building, on a large scale at least, cannot start until after real estate can be relieved, and stands out as an investment of the soundest kind.

Retail Sales Tax Proposed as Source

Massachusetts needs, if it continues its present costs of government, some $20,000,000. The new source now up for defense is the retail sales tax. If the Legislature does not want that, then all should know that in turning it down, real estate will stand approximately $20,000,000 more in 1934 than in 1933, and only 18% of our population will bear the full effect of this.

Is it possible to cut down government expenses so that present taxes need not be increased, or new kinds of taxes imposed?

If our municipal office holders have not offered a program of curtailment or abandonment of public services on a scale that would have a real effect on our tax burden, then we may accept the fact that such a revolutionary idea as leveled service is difficult to bring about. Shall we give up our schools, shall we do without fire and police protection, shall we neglect our roads, and turn our free-minded and insane loose on the streets. No, of course not. But this business of getting revenue for government is everyone's business, and the problem can be solved only by the most unselfish, honest and courageous action. It is a common problem that concerns us all.

To Support Government

If a sales tax is passed it is estimated that the State would receive about $20,000,000 yearly. All would pay in proportion to their spending. It is not pleasant to consider another tax but this may not be a very burdensome one, and we must realize that we face a serious crisis.

If we know that 2 cents of every sales tax dollar we spend is going to help support government, meaning our schools, street lights, fire and police departments, water and sewer services, sidewalks and streets, health and sanitation departments, hospitals, parks, playgrounds, welfare departments, and many, many other things, then I think the average person would pay gladly, and thankfully, because he could never purchase, alone, those things that government allows us to enjoy.

High School Loses to Unbeaten Chelsea Quintet

The unbeaten Chelsea High basketball quintet annexed another victory when it defeated Arlington High, 32-22, in the Arlington High gym last Friday. The largest crowd of the season attended the game.

Arlington fought desperately all the way, with "Brother" Clarke and Bart Madden getting the most points.

Ken Weidaw, who injured his shoulder during the football season, made his debut by playing most of the second team game and part of the first team game. Ken will be a welcome addition to the team.

The second team game was won by Arlington, 18-17.

Arlington A. A. Beats Pals, 68-23 at East

The Big Red Basketball team rose to great heights and defeated the Arlington Pals, 68-23, at the Junior High East on last Thursday night before a large crowd. The Pals made it interesting the first period but fell by the wayside because of the passing of the Arlington A. A. The A. A. put up a whirlwind game to make it six straight victories in the Senior League and hold its top place against the First Baptist. Galucci and Friery once more dominated the scoring and their team play was beautiful to watch. Ramsey and Keefe were outstanding for the Pals along with "Red" Beasley who is slowly coming into his own. The A. A. plays the Melrose City Club tomorrow at City Hall and the following Monday plays the Barry Club.

—The Arlington High School boys' basketball team will play Medford High this evening at Medford. Arlington has beaten Medford once this season.

Big Red Will Play in Plymouth Tourney

The Arlington A. A. has been chosen to represent this section at the state basketball tourney at Plymouth on February 22nd. The Big Red will play a benefit game on next Wednesday at the Junior High East to defray expenses and entry fee. The opponents will be none other than the same team the A. H. S. defeated in 1928 to win the state tourney at Tech, the present Chelsea V. M. H. A., a fast, clever team, better by 100 than the best Chelsea team ever produced. Manager Charlie Crocco requests all sport loving fans to come to the game and give the boys a real send-off. Eddie Gallucci, Lefty and George Lowder, Goodwin, Driscoll and many others will perform.

The A. A. has a wonderful record of 13 wins and only one loss. The teams are evenly matched. The Cardinals will open the night against the Waltham Trojans.

RED AND GRAY SEXTET WIN FROM BELMONT 2-0

The Arlington High hockey team defeated the Belmont High sextet 2-0 at the Boston Garden last Saturday. The game was a dull and uninteresting one with only a few minutes of excitement.

The first goal was made by Jim Byrne in the second period. "Hiram" Lane stole the puck away from a Belmont man in front of the Arlington goal, ceded his way up the ice and passed to Byrne who was waiting in front of the Belmont cage.

The second tally was made as the final bell was ringing by Bob Mee.

ARLINGTON—Mee, Byrne, rw; Lax, Gardella, c; Norberg, Sullivan, lw; Collins, ld; Lane, rd; Sakoljan, g.

BELMONT—Gruhn, Olive, rw; Jameson, Keefe, c; Grotjohn, Maloon, rw; McCurdy, ld; Campbell, rd; Morris, g.

Score—Arlington 2, Belmont 0.

Goals—Second Period, Byrne (Lane) 6:52. Third period—Mee (Lax), 12:00. Penalties—Lane (illegal check); McCurdy (interference); Gardella (tripping); Gardella (board check).

Referees—Gorden and Mahoney. Time—Three 12m. periods.

BASKETBALL GIRLS LOSE FIRST GAME IN TWO YEARS

The girls' basketball team of Arlington High for the first time in two years, last Friday, were overcome by a strong opposition. The first team lost to Malden, 19-17, in a game played at Malden.

McCarthy and Hart, Arlington's forwards, were so closely guarded that their underarm passes were caught up by the Malden guards after they reached. McCarthy out-tricked several times by passing over her head and then running up and catching the ball before they had a chance to stop her.

During their passes to each other and from the center, McCarthy and Hart were forced off the floor because of its small size and were obliged to give up their attempts at passing near the sidelines. McCarthy made two free shots near the end of the game, saving Arlington from a worse defeat at the hands of Malden. Hart had already made one free shot in the middle of the game.

O'Sullivan was taken out of the game because of a severe injury to her finger. As she caught a pass thrown to her from the side lines, her little finger was pushed sideways and sprained. Ethel Johnson, jump center for Arlington, had sprained her ankle at the Winchester game a week previous. Both girls will undoubtedly be out of the lineup for the next few games.

Midge Williams and Barbara Rimbach were unusually fast, but the size of the gym was against them, also. Midge, as always, had an advantage over her forward because of her tallness. With surprising rapidity, she would reach into mid air and catch the ball before Thompson, Malden forward, had a chance to dodge in front of her. Then she would pass to Rimbach and the ball would again go back at center, but here the trouble started. Coghlan who has been playing guard on the second team didn't team up with O'Sullivan as well as Johnson, who has been playing center on class and varsity teams for three years with O'Sullivan as her side center.

Malden's centers should be given credit for the way they played, especially the side center who gave O'Sullivan, and later in the game, Anna Dixon, a fast game.

The lineup:

ARLINGTON—K. Hart, rf; H. McCarthy, (capt.), lf; B. Coghlan, lf; O'Sullivan, Dixon, sc; M. Williams, rg; B. Rimbach, lg.

MALDEN—Thompson, rf; Marshall, lf; McDermode, lf; Renaldi (capt.), sc; Mekes, rg; Johnson, lg.

Second Team Loses 30-26

The second team played a good game but not such a close one as the first team. They were on the losing end of a 30-26 score. Swanson and O'Donnell scored almost all the points except three which were made by Marion Butler. The first two forwards mentioned kept the points as close to the Malden score as they possibly could, but Henry of Malden, a red-headed youngster, quickened her speed every time Arlington made a basket and scored another one.

The lineup:

ARLINGTON—Swanson, Butler, rf; O'Donnell, Gorrell, lf; Powers, Siker, jc; A. Dixon, Bevins, Jackson, sc; Welmer, Marvin, rg; Soderquist, lg.

MALDEN—Shulze, Amleone, rf; Henry, lf; Tarbox, jc; Sherman, sc; Botto, rg; Koulouris, Sweeza, lg.

JUNIOR HIGH EAST WINS FROM JUNIOR HIGH WEST

The Junior High East basketball team defeated Junior High West, 18-7, at the High School gym last Friday.

In the preliminary the East Cubs defeated the West Cubs, 12-4.

Junior Ryan, right forward for the East, scored more than half of his team's total, registering 12 points for his afternoon's work.

Showing a strong defensive game the entire first half, the two teams playing for scoring breaks that materialized for the East, finished the first half with 9-4 advantage.

During the second half the East dominated the play. The inability of the West's defense to cover Ryan spelled defeat for them, the East forward scoring six field baskets.

Travers featured offensively for the West and Nigro defensively.

tries to escape figure in the riotous story, which ends in a thundering chariot race to the sea. "Havana Widows," the comedy feature, is a hilarious companion dealing with the somewhat daring adventures of a couple of Broadway chorus girls on a millionaire hunt in Havana. The cast includes Joan Blondell, Glenda Farrell, Frank McHugh, Guy Kibbie and Allen Jenkins. Out of the yellowing pages of metropolitan newspapers a dramatic story has been rescued for the screen that promises to be one of the fastest, exciting and thrilling chronicles of modern metropolitan life to be transcribed into a motion picture. The picture is "The Woman in His Life," which starts Thursday, with Otto Kruger, Ben Lyon, Una Merkel, Isabel Jewell and Roscoe Karns. It is the story of sensational trials of life behind the scenes of the courtrooms and attorney's offices; of a spectacular trial lawyer who always wins the cases for his clients, be they guilty or innocent; but who lets a woman of his past wreck his future. Lillian Harvey, internationally known screen star, comes in the companion picture, "My Lips Betray." Others in the cast are John Bole, El Brendel, Irene Browne and Henry Stephenson.

"DOUBLE DOOR"
Comes to Plymouth, Boston
with New York Cast

"Double Door," which for 6 months this season gave New Yorkers their biggest dramatic thrill of the year, will come to the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, for an engagement of two weeks, opening Monday evening, February 12. "Double Door" is a shrewd piece of theatrical craftsmanship from the pen of Elizabeth McPadden and has exceptional dramatic powers.

Mary Morris and Anne Revere

"DOUBLE DOOR"

Whether or not, the author denies it, it is generally believed that the story was inspired by the Wendel family, long one of the most eccentric families in New York—what with its secluded house where metropolitan units were the highest—what with all the queer things the Wendels did and all the queer ideas the Wendels had. In "Double Door" a family named Van Bret parallels with the Wendel family, and Victoria Van Bret, the oldest sister, rules her younger sister and her step-brother with an iron hand. When brother marries a girl whom Victoria disapproves of, she makes up her mind to Items of national interest will be taken up next Sunday. The friendly hour for young people in the Parish House at 6 o'clock conducted by members of the Y. P. C. U.

The role of Victoria Van Bret is one of the heaviest assignments that can be given an actress. It requires tremendous nervous energy, for the fierceness of the character must be projected across the footlights by sheer force of will and not merely by word or gesture. Mary Morris, who portrays this role, has received honorable mention by several New York critics as giving one of the greatest characterizations seen in the theatre in recent years. Anne Revere is superb as the frightened Caroline and the entire cast, including Thelma Paige, Granville Bates, Ernest Woodward, Frothingham Lysons, George Quimby and others, give excellent account of themselves.

The costumes are rich and colorful, true of the time and place. Fifth Avenue in 1910. The setting completely bespeaks the elegance to be found in an old brownstone mansion on Fifth Avenue.

AN ARTICLE WORTH READING

One of our representatives, Hollis M. Gott, has written an article which appears in another column of this issue, which should be read by every one interested in state expenses and in the taxation by which these expenses are paid.

Mr. Gott is a member of the Committee on Taxation and as a member of that committee voted in favor of the retail sales tax. He believes that the sales tax offers a just solution to a difficult problem. Being a sincere and honest man, he expressed his opinion on his vote.

However, his article gives an unbiased picture of the state's financial condition. It was written not to persuade his constituents to his opinion but to give them facts from which they may draw their own conclusions.

We are not prepared to express an opinion either for or against the sales tax. We feel that before doing this we should give the matter further consideration.

We are, however, familiar with Mr. Gott's honorable record of public service, which includes that to Arlington as Selectman. We feel sure that his action on the sales tax was as sincere and honest as were his actions while he was Selectman, and that his conclusion was as conscientiously reached.

We are prepared, too, to urge a reading of his article. We should not have printed it, had we not thought it worth reading.

A GREEN PINE

Lincoln is one of our national heroes; he has not yet become one of our national statues. Doubtless this is partly because there are still some who remember him, partly because of his intensely human qualities.

We picture him as the lawyer whose rusty and dented tall hat was stuffed with legal papers and who wore a woolen shawl pinned about his stooping shoulders. We remember that

*"He had three boys
"Who liked to shout and play
"And lots of debts
"It took him years to pay"*

We recall his delight in "Petroleum Naseby's" writings, the funny stories he loved to tell and hear, as well as his tenderness of heart and his quickness of sympathy.

There were many who doubted his fitness for the presidency, his ability to cope with the situation created by the differences between North and South. Perhaps he felt himself sometimes that he did not quite measure up to the job. Certainly he had moments of discouragement and certainly he realized that there were members of his cabinet who felt themselves far better fitted for the office which he held.

In spite of these discouragements and in spite of the unfriendly atmosphere which sometimes hampered his work, he stuck to his job. He was willing, perhaps, to give it up if there was anyone that he believed could do it better. But he kept on growing until he measured up to the job as did no one else. His patience helped him, his persistence and his sympathy, which made it possible for him to understand another's point of view, even the point of view of the Rebels, whose plots continually threatened him.

He was born in a log cabin. His boyhood was spent in the backwoods with

*"A prairie wind to blow him down
"And pinching times when he went to town"*

His education was mostly self-acquired. He was a country lawyer, awkward and ungainly. He led this country through one of its greatest crises. Had he lived the differences between North and South might have been sooner healed. Had the spirit of kindness in which he approached the reconstruction of the union after the world war, prevailed in the councils which directed the reconstruction of Europe after the world war, we might have a different world today.

*"Lincoln was a green pine
"He kept on growing"*

IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN ARLINGTON

How many of us when we read last week of the outbreak of murder and banditry in Needham thought, "That might have happened in Arlington?" Needham is a quiet, residential town like Arlington. Before last week, it felt, doubtless, as secure in its freedom from the lawlessness that infests the great cities as we do here.

There is, however, a difference worthy of note. Measures of economy had caused the removal from the Needham police station of the teletype service. There is evidence that seems to show that before they staged their raid the criminals found out what facilities for rapid communication the police had. Perhaps had they found that Needham had a teletype, they might have robbed the bank of a less well protected place.

That less well protected place, however, would certainly not have been Arlington. Economies have not affected our methods of police communication. In these matters the Police Department has kept always more than abreast of the times. A teletype was installed long ago. Arlington was one of the first towns to have a broadcasting station and scout cars. Police officers are now at work constructing two-way radios for the scout cars. One of these has already been used successfully.

In addition to these the police chief has worked out and put into operation this week a plan whereby if there should ever be a raid in Arlington similar to that in Needham, all avenues of escape for the criminals would immediately be blocked. The men of the force will also be trained in the use of repeating rifles and these will be placed in the radio cars.

All of these devices make more certain the apprehension of criminals. They also create in criminals a feeling of respect. An efficient police force efficiently equipped keeps criminals away from a town just as a good mousetrap keeps rats out of a house.

So we feel that not only it might not have been Arlington after all, but that it may never be Arlington.

A MYSTERY MESSAGE

Boy Scouts in Arlington, like Boy Scouts all over the country are curiously awaiting the message which President Roosevelt will give them over the radio tomorrow noon. In this message he will ask them to perform some service. What that service is will remain a secret until the president tells the boys themselves.

Not only are the boys curious but they are all set, ready to go. Into whatever the president asks them to do there is no question that they will put all of the zest of youth. The situation is one to appeal to the imagination of any boy—the thrill of a mystery and the opportunity for service to his country under orders from the man who is the leader of that country.

The President's speech will be listened to by many besides the scouts and their leaders, both because there is a keen interest in any message from the president and because there is also a keen interest in the scouts. There will be an interest equally keen in the task appointed and in the manner in which it is performed.

In our present emergency there is so much to be done that, doubtless, the task will be no perfunctory one. Nor, since the scouts are trained for service, will it be done in a perfunctory manner.

The scout movement will benefit by having attention focused upon it. The nation will benefit both by the service done and by the benefits received by the scouts, who are an important part of our nation.

Sixty Years Ago This Week

Messrs. Addison Gage and Co., commenced cutting ice on Spy Pond is good earnest last Friday, and have kept it up day and night ever since. They are working at present on the west side of the pond, and have a large gang of men. The ice is about 16 inches thick, which exceeds expectations. No serious accidents have occurred as yet; only an occasional cold bath. One man has been in three times within a week.

Mr. Tidd of Woburn was thrown out of his sleigh one day this week when it overturned near the Arlington House. Mr. Tidd maintained his hold on the reins while the horse ran around the hotel yard, dragging Tidd after him. At last the horse ran toward the unfortunate man who got up and attempted to grasp the bridle. He was struck upon the eye by the horse's teeth, causing a decided discoloration of the orb.

Business in every industry in town is very dull indeed, if we may except the ice tool factory of Messrs. Wm. T. Wood & Co.

Union Hall, Arlington Heights, is to be turned into a skating rink, and will be open every evening next week for that exhilarating sport. Rev. W. H. Daniels will continue his Sunday discourses in the same hall.

The circulation of the Advocate is NOT falling off. During the three months ending January 31, 1883, Richardson & Co., sold and paid us for 909 copies of the Advocate. During the corresponding time this year they sold and paid us for 878 copies, a difference so small as to be accounted for by the succession of stormy Saturdays this year. We shall be pleased to prove these statements to anyone interested.

Wendell Phillips is dead. He was the one man in a million who would cut loose from his magnificent birthright of great wealth, turn his back on such a brilliant outlook and walk steadily in the path of duty, devoting his whole energies, his voice, his time and his money to the relief of the oppressed.

In the current issue of the "Waltham Backwoodsman" the editor says: "The Arlington Advocate, one of the most witty, enterprising and best edited papers in the country." Our Waltham friend shows himself a most discerning man.

Wiggin & Elwell, (W. D. Elwell of this town) members of the Boston Stock Exchange, announce that Mr. C. Handasyde Whitney, member of the New York Stock Exchange, became a partner of the firm on February 1st.

The Arlington & Belmont Ice Co. began cutting on Spy Pond Thursday afternoon. The ice is about a foot thick. The Cambridge company is waiting for the ice to make a few more inches.

Saturday evening that aggregation of gentlemen who have facetiously called themselves "Rough Riders" but are prominent citizens of Arlington, who take their exercise in the saddle, gave a subscription dance in Associates Hall.

... the buds were absent, but the young matrons were out in full force and a more brilliant bouquet of roses in bloom is seldom gathered in one "bunch". The patrons of the party were Messrs. Henry Hornblower, Wm. A. Muller, H. A. Phinney, Herbert W. Reed, Theodore P. Harding, Waterman A. Taft, Hon. Jas. A. Bailey, Jr., Mrs. Taft received in an elegant white lace dress; Mrs. S. Fred Hicks was in black satin striped grenadine, and Mrs. Harry G. Porter wore a white striped chiffon, she and Mrs. Taft wearing beautiful jewels.

TOWER ASSOCIATION VALENTINE COSTUME PARTY

Carnival spirit will prevail at the valentine costume party to be held at the Brackett School next Tuesday evening where the Arlington Heights Tower Association members and their friends will have another enjoyable evening of entertainment and dancing. Prizes will be awarded for the prettiest, the most unusual and the funniest costumes. Music for dancing will be furnished by a five-piece orchestra, and entertainment will be provided by talented artists early in the evening, and later between dance numbers. About 200 merrymakers are expected at the party, clad in all sorts of bizarre costumes.

Citizens' Committee Describes Itself

February 8, 1934.

To the Editor:

A letter in your edition of February second expresses the desire for enlightenment on the background and purposes of the Arlington Citizens' Committee.

First, I would like to dispel a thought commonly held; that this organization is one of many small groups endeavoring to control town affairs. Such is not the case. The sole purpose of the Arlington Citizens' Committee is the promotion of good, clean, economical and efficient government. The Committee is made up of several hundred citizens from all parts of the town, many of them becoming acquainted for the first time as they are brought together by the mutual desire to procure this result. All citizens may become members.

The organization of the Arlington Citizens' Committee is simple; a chairman, a board of twenty-eight directors representing all precincts in the town and the usual officers and committees. All officers are elected by the full membership which, in turn, settles all matters of importance by a majority vote.

To the selection of candidates, much time and discussion is given, often for several months, and final endorsement is by majority vote of the entire membership.

The full slate endorsed by the Arlington Citizens' Committee this year is composed of men and women who are, in the estimation of the Committee, fully qualified by character and training for the various offices for which they are candidates. They have pledged themselves to honest and faithful service to the town.

The meetings are usually held twice a month and, in addition to the discussion of the campaign work, are frequently addressed by an outside speaker.

The Arlington Citizens' Committee is the only group in town that has functioned continuously year after year, and it is the only body that has consistently endorsed candidates for all the elective offices each year.

Representing all sections of the town, and yet without obligation to any particular group, the aims for which it strives are perhaps most directly expressed by the following, taken from the By-Laws under which it functions:

Article II — Section 1
"The objects of the Committee shall be:

(a) To advance the candidacy of suitable persons seeking political office under the municipal government of the Town of Arlington.
(b) To promote civic interest among the inhabitants of said Town."

Much time, careful study and close attention to town affairs, not only during recent months, but for many years, places this Committee in a position to know and understand the particular requirements of the various town offices.

The Arlington Citizens' Committee solicits the support and cooperation of every citizen of the town who shares the desire to have these aims and purposes accomplished.

Yours very truly,
ARLINGTON CITIZENS' COMMITTEE
Earle C. Hopkins,
Chairman

INVITATION NEVER RECEIVED

At a testimonial recently tendered to Lieutenant Charles E. Carroll of our local police department, at the Hotel Lenox, the absence of Arthur P. Wyman, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen was noted. In order that there be no misunderstanding among the friends of Lieut. Carroll, I take this opportunity as Chairman of the Committee on Arrangements to state that it was the desire of the committee to have Mr. Wyman present as a guest but unfortunately the invitation extended to him to be present was miscarried and never reached him.

This letter is published in order to prevent any injustice being done to Mr. Wyman and to explain his absence the evening in question.

Chairman of Committee.

"Education—For What?" Topic for Hardy P. T. A.

The next regular meeting of the Hardy School Parent-Teacher Association will be held next Tuesday evening at 7.30 p. m. in the school hall. The guest speaker will be Harry Gardner, whose subject will be "Education—For What?"

The teachers will be in their rooms from 7.30 to 8 p. m. to confer with the parents. Inasmuch as the reports have just gone out to the parents of the children who have failed in their studies, this would be a fine time to take up the students' problems with the teachers.

A musical program has been arranged. Refreshments will be served, mothers of the fourth grade acting as hostesses.

Properly Arranged

An establishment from which final services are held must be properly arranged in order that everything will be convenient, including the correct handling of those in attendance.

Here, for instance, everyone, with the exception of the family, may be seated in one room, even if the attendance is large. The family, of course, has its own private quarters.

Grace D. Curry's Pupils Enjoy Valentine Party

The many hearts and cupid with the gay balloons scattered around Odd Fellows Hall last Saturday evening made a pretty setting for Grace D. Curry's Valentine party, attended by the High School group. It was a "summer party" and certainly the young ladies in their attractive organdies and the young men in their flannels and slacks defied the snow drifts outside and made it seem quite like a Florida gathering.

Mrs. George B. Ottley in figured chiffon and Mrs. H. N. Rasely in a white crepe evening gown with red accessories received the young people. The ushers, Roger Bachofner, Emens Guernsey, Philip Sullivan, and John Buckley introduced the guests.

Two elimination dances were held during the evening and four of the winners were given prizes. One Valentine german and several favor dances made eleven o'clock come all too soon. The lowering of the balloons as a final favor for each pupil made a pretty ending to a very happy evening.

ASSESSOR CANDIDATE LONG WITH L. P. HOLLANDER

Peter F. O'Neill, who has been endorsed by the Civic Committee for the office of Assessor has been connected for forty years with the L. P. Hollander Company of Boston, where he was in charge of the foreign office and of the receiving department. In the latter position he handled over five million dollars a year in merchandise at retail.

He has never been in the real estate business. In fact, it is his belief that an assessor should not be in the real estate business.

Mr. O'Neill was born in Arlington, his father having settled here in 1862. He was educated in the public schools, entered the employ of L. P. Hollander when he was a young man and worked up from the bottom.

He was formerly a member of the town Finance Committee and was for seven years a Town Meeting member, serving his first term when the town changed from the old form to its present form of government. He has watched the development of the town from a farming community to its present size and feels that he has a sense of the relative values of property here. He is also a large taxpayer.

Has Herald Telling News of Lincoln's Death

Mrs. Harry A. Boyne has found, put away in her home at 6 Mill street, a copy of the New York Herald of Sunday, April 16, 1865, whose headlines announce the death of Lincoln — "Our Loss — The Great National Calamity — Death of the President — Sad Details of the Terrible Event — The Last Moments of the President — Identification of the Murderer — John Wilkes Booth the Assassin."

"But a moment before the attack was made," says one paragraph of the news story, "the president was leaning forward, resting his head on his hand in his accustomed careless way, his eyes bent upon the stage, and enjoying a hearty laugh. A noise was heard and the form of a person descended from the box occupied by the president. With one leap he planted himself upon the stage and assumed a tragical posture, flourished a dagger, turned and faced the audience, shouting, 'Sic semper tyrannis.' — also — 'The South is avenged,' in a tone sufficiently distinct to be heard in all parts of the theatre. As quick as a flash he disappeared at the rear of the stage, followed by Mr. Stewart, a lawyer of this city, who missed him by about four feet as the door was closed."

And further on in the same story "The murder of the President was at once announced at Grover's Theatre. Little Tad Lincoln was in attendance there, and the moment he heard the statement he seemed to go almost crazy, shrieked and sobbed in a heartrending manner. The poor boy was taken to the White House, and was soon quieted when it was ascertained that his father was still alive."

Mrs. Boyne's father, Henry F. Nowell, was in Ford's theatre when Lincoln was assassinated. Mr. Nowell enlisted from Cambridge in Company F of the 13th Massachusetts.

Mrs. Boyne has also a copy of the Army Square Hospital Gazette dated February 4, 1865.

Mrs. Roy Bishop of 17 Oakledge street has been discharged from the Symmes Arlington Hospital and is recuperating at the home of her friend, Mrs. William A. Thurston, 1077 Massachusetts avenue.

Welfare Notes

It is hard enough to work outside when one is dressed for the zero temperatures but still worse when a man has no gloves or mittens and probably results in frozen fingers. The Council is appealing for men's gloves and mittens of any kind. These articles are very badly needed and we hope for a speedy response.

Owing to the fact that one of the projects of the C. W. A. is renovating the Old Town Hall, the Council office, being in that building, has been completely remodeled and the fresh clean office is greatly enjoyed by Mrs. Perry and her co-workers.

Miss Patterson's Exhibit Attracts Many Visitors

Block prints, etchings and water colors by Miss Margaret Patterson, which were hung last week in the small gallery of the Robbins Library, by the Art Committee of the Woman's Club, have attracted many visitors.

The prints are particularly colorful—Zinnias, fuchsias, and althea against black backgrounds, a single rose, a single water lily. But while flowers predominated in this group and call forth many exclamations of admiration, there are other subjects that have lent themselves equally happily to the block printing process. "Swans" is a study in white and blue in which graceful curves predominate. "Trees on Hilltop" is most effective in orange and blue, while "Windblown Trees" shows the dark branches of pines blown against a background of bright blue water. In "Main Street" the dominating orange is shaded with lavender. Among the paintings, a favorite is "Italian Wild Flowers". The flowers are vivid, yellow, lavender and white, against a background so deeply purple as to be nearly black. "From Ravello" shows distant hills, blue and brown. The etchings are few in number but beautifully executed and delightful in their choice of subjects.

Miss Patterson has many friends here since she made her home for many years at the Heights, where her brother, F. Alfred Patterson, is still a resident. She is now living in Boston.

The pictures were hung under the direction of Mrs. Lewis E. Stickney, a member of the Art Committee. The chairman, Mrs. Arthur J. Covell, is in California. The other members are Mrs. W. G. Brooks, Mrs. Laurence L. Barber, Mrs. F. P. Hawkes, Mrs. B. T. King, Mrs. J. H. Kernan, Mrs. John Nicol Mark, Mrs. C. A. Rideout, Mrs. Edward L. Shinn, and Mrs. Walter J. Vaughn.

Chief Bullock Orders Men to Help Enumerators

Chief of Police Archie F. Bullock has ordered the men of his department to do everything in their power to help those who are taking the unemployment census. This order is the result of a letter received from the Unemployment Census office asking the chief to give such instruction to those under him.

The letter points out that the census is intended to provide material that will serve as a base for improving unemployment conditions here. It is hoped that a clear understanding of this will help the workers to get the truthful answers which will make their work of value.

Mr. Birch lauds Mr. Patterson. The resignation of Robert H. Patterson, manager of the Arlington Gas Light Company, who has been transferred to Lawrence, was accepted with the regrets of all the members as expressed in a warm-hearted speech by Arthur Birch. He said that Bob Patterson had obtained the respect and affection of the people of the town which is so important for a public utility. He reminded the audience that Bob was a former president of the chamber, a vestryman of the Episcopal Church, and now serving on the building committee. These were but indications of the high place which he held in the community.

Mr. Patterson responded by introducing his successor, Horace Taylor and by expressing his extreme regret at being obliged to leave Arlington which he liked better than any other town in which he had lived. Mrs. Harold B. Wood was also called upon. She stated that the Woman's Club which she represented was making every effort to increase the business in the Arlington stores.

The following were presented for membership. These names will be acted upon by the directors. They are: Paul A. Ziegler, 40 Warren street; Dr. Kenneth S. Ellis, 220 Massachusetts avenue; George M. Dolan, 203 Mystic street; Daniel J. Canniff, 27 Highland avenue; John J. Sullivan, 39 Webster street; Albert E. Hughes, 259 Pleasant street.

Lieut. Carroll Honored By Friends at Dinner

Police Lieutenant Charles E. Carroll was the guest of honor at a dinner given last week Thursday evening in the Hotel Lenox, Boston. One hundred and fifty guests, among them officials of Cambridge, Winchester, Belmont and Woburn, as well as of Arlington, enjoyed the dinner, which was given to mark the honor guest's elevation to the lieutenantcy.

A. Gordon Wier who headed the committee in charge of arrangements, introduced Luke A. Manning, former selectman, as toastmaster. Thomas O. D. Urquhart, former chief of police, whose home is now in Saco, Me., presented Lieut. Carroll with a wrist watch on behalf of his friends. Other speakers included Selectman Leonard Collins and George H. Lowe, Jr., and Fire Chief Daniel B. Tierney of Arlington, Chief William H. Rogers of Winchester, Chief Charles R. McCauley of Woburn, Mayor Edward Kenney of Woburn, George McLaughlin, Attorney for the Police Relief Association; David Nelligan of Cambridge, and Capt. Timothy F. Leahy of the Cambridge Police Department.

To the entertainment which was under the direction of Walter Donahue, master of ceremonies at the American House, James Murphy contributed songs and Joseph Ahern a buck and wing dance.

Women Supporting Hughes To Meet Next Thursday

Next Thursday evening at eight, there will be a meeting of the women's committee interested in the candidacy of Albert E. Hughes for the office of selectman, in G. A. R. Hall. Several women of prominence will address this meeting, among them, Miss Mary Ward, Immigration Commissioner of Boston; Mrs. Helen MacDonald, Election Commissioner of the City of Boston, and Mrs. Elizabeth McNamara, chairman of the Women's Division of the Middlesex County Democratic League. An excellent entertainment is also being provided, so that the evening promises to be exceptionally enjoyable. An invitation will be extended to the other candidates to be present.

Henry E. Keenan to Run For Planning Board

Henry E. Keenan, local appraiser, auctioneer, real estate and insurance agent, has just announced his intention to run for the office of planning board for the term of three years.

His business background should well qualify him for the position. His earlier training was received under the guidance of the well-known concern of John C. Paige & Co., insurance brokers of Boston and the real estate concern of Edward T. Harrington Co., land developers. He was afterwards associated with the firm of J. W. Knowles, developers and builders.

His scholastic training in addition to his practical experience and complete degree course at Suffolk Law School, includes the Real Estate Practice and Appraisal and Town Planning Course at Harvard Business School and the Real Estate and Commercial Law Courses at Boston University.

Mr. Keenan has been concerned mostly in the last twelve years with the development of real estate in Arlington and the nearby towns. He has an excellent working knowledge of values in this district and also many good ideas for the future development of the town of Arlington for the best interests of all concerned.

He was appointed by the Federal Government as an Appraiser for the Home Owners' Loan Corporation which has been doing excellent work for the home owners. His services have been well appreciated by those who have met him in this new service.

Mr. Keenan was born in Arlington thirty-one years ago. His father is James G. Keenan, a long time resident of the town who has been connected with the Arlington Post Office for many years.

Mr. Keenan is being endorsed by the Civic Committee of Arlington.

Old Fashioned Concert At Park Avenue Church

A large audience enjoyed the old fashioned concert which was given in the Parish House of the Park Avenue Congregational church last Friday evening. "Ye Village Songsters" opened the program with "Long, Long Ago." There followed such old favorites as "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," "Love's Old Sweet Song," and "Now the Day Is Over." "Cousin Jedidiah" was sung by "Uriah" Battis and the singers; Ruth Elaine Madden gave readings, and the Three Co-eds—Donah, Billie and Erol, entertained. The audience joined the singers in "Auld Lang Syne," the last number on the program.

Those in the chorus were Charles H. Brown, J. Howard Hayes, Lawrence Wagner, Frank A. Jones, Arthur E. Robinson, Harry Lewis, Edward Nichols, Harvey Robinson, Floyd Battis, George Smith, Laurence Arthur, Roy B. Smith, Fred Smith, Sarah F. Patterson, Isabel Conklin, Mrs. Herbert Snow, Margaret Arnold, Doris Ellis, Millie Brown, Blanche McCauley, Winifred Cass, Barbara Annal, Katherine McArthur, Betty McKinnon, Margaret Haley, and Mabel Thoren.

Officials and Candidates Speak to Civic Committee

Both present town officials and candidates for town offices were among the speakers at the meeting of the Civic Committee which was held Sunday afternoon at Ye Lantern. The meeting, which was an enthusiastic one was attended by more than two hundred.

The speakers were Selectmen Leonard Collins and George H. Lowe, Jr.; John E. Mitchell of the Board of Public Works; Town Counsel John L. Murphy; Albert E. Hughes, candidate for Selectman; Edward T. Ryan, candidate for Board of Public Works; Paul C. Griffin and Joseph Cormier, candidates for Park Commissioners; Joseph J. Bevins, candidate for School Committee, and Peter F. O'Neill, candidate for assessor.

The business included the appointment of captains for each precinct and of committees to get out the vote. Daniel F. Donovan presided and Paul C. Griffin acted as secretary. Another meeting is planned for next Sunday afternoon.

Explains Town Government To Junior Women's Club

The Junior Woman's Club held its bi-monthly meeting Monday evening in Junior Library Hall.

Miss Ethel Crosby, club president, opened the business meeting, during which the report of the previous meeting was read by the secretary, Miss Armetie Avakian. Before the evening's social activities were begun, Miss Crosby took the opportunity to invite the members to join the choral society of the club which is under the direction of Miss Linnea Osterlund.

A number of girls, who have already joined the singers' group, met last week at Miss Osterlund's home on Brattle street where they spent a pleasant evening in choral practice.

Miss Jean Haydn, the vice-president, introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Albert W. Wunderly.

Mr. Wunderly, who was graduated from Arlington High School and later from the University of Maine, took as his subject one of vital interest to all the members—"Know Your Town". To illustrate his topics as he explained them, Mr. Wunderly passed individual charts to each girl. On these were listed the various officers of the town, the manner of their election, the length of their terms, and their duties.

Following Mr. Wunderly's speech and relevant to it was a short debate staged by members of the Arlington High Boys' Debating Club. Lawrence Driscoll presided as chairman of the debate, which was resolved: Arlington should become a city.

Francis Ahern and James Downing supported the affirmative side of the question, and the negative was upheld by Lester Peterson and Philip Sullivan. Each boy spoke well and presented a strong argument for his side. Mr. and Mrs. Wunderly and Mrs. Clifford Cox were the judges of the debate. Their decision gave the honors to Francis Ahern and James Downing who had upheld the affirmative side of the question.

"Don't Grow Old" Speaker Tells Searchlight Club

"Never try to grow old gracefully, or any other way. The smart thing is to forget your age. Live and grow old triumphantly and hopefully," said Mrs. Benjamin B. Snow of Worcester, speaking at the meeting of the Searchlight Club, in Junior Library Hall yesterday afternoon, on "Fit at Fifty."

Mrs. Snow termed the years before fifty a preparation for those after fifty, which will include fifteen or more years of active life. At fifty, one has arrived at a new era and begins to cash in on the qualities which have been accumulated all through life. Experience, seriousness of purpose and judgment are all on the side of those of fifty.

Mrs. Snow included in her rules for happiness the making and keeping of worthwhile friends, contact with children—indispensable if you wish to keep youthful; the spirit of adventure, and laughter. There are two kinds of people—givers and takers, and the givers never grow old.

Keep a corner of your life for yourself, she advised; have a hobby and an enthusiasm for something and it may bring the world to your door.

Robert H. Patterson

We'll miss you, Bob! And that's not bluff, nor bunk nor ballyhoo;
It's from the heart of every friend
that's seen and met with you.
To us you've been a "decent guy"
and an inspiration,
And most keenly, one and all,
we feel this separation.

We'll miss you, Bob! But we rejoice at your well-earned success;
We're proud of your accomplishments through all the strife and stress.
We owe you debt of gratitude for all you've done in Town
To keep and brighten and increase fair Arlington's renown.

We'll miss you, Bob! We'll miss your smile,
we'll miss your cheery word,
And your gay company that ever struck melodious chord.
We'll always miss your counsel wise
in matters of importance—
You diagnosed so perfectly, and nothing left to chance.

We'll miss you, Bob! But O we're glad that you are climbing high—
You'll reach much greater heights some day, we freely prophesy.
In life's affairs we wish for you all that is great and grand.
May joy, and riches, too, be served to you with generous hand.

elm tree. The children also gave the Code of the Great Outdoors.

There was an exhibit of the craft work of the juniors, who are directed by Mrs. Leroy Shaw. This included birdhouse, feeding station, Christmas wreaths, and pine cone turkeys. They also showed photographs of their beautification project—the triangular plot at the center—which received third prize in the contest. The pictures were taken before and after. Other photographs shown were of the gardens of three of the members—Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. George W. Ladd, and Mrs. Horace Clark.

During the business meeting the following were appointed as a nominating committee to report at the next meeting—Mrs. Nelson B. Crosby, chairman; Mrs. Frederick Johnson, and Mrs. Arthur J. Wellington.

At the close of the program a delicious tea was served under the direction of Mrs. C. F. Atwood. The tables were prettily decorated with spring flowers and set with silver. The pourers were Mrs. Franklin P. Hawkes, Mrs. Herbert Stephens, Mrs. Lucretia Spofford, and Mrs. Robert Turner.

Besides Mrs. Nickerson, she is survived by two sons, Clifton O. Carver of Woburn and Eugene T. Carver of Somerville and by three daughters—Mrs. Fred W. Gardiner, Cleveland; Mrs. Dora MacDonald, Woburn; and Mrs. B. A. Foster, Boston.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon in the Hartwell Chapel, 792 Massachusetts avenue, with Rev. Clifford O. Simpson, minister of the Park Avenue Congregational church, officiating. Burial was yesterday in Lincolnville.

THOMAS W. CASSERLY

The funeral of Thomas W. Casserly was held yesterday morning from his late home, 54 Rawson road. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated in St. Agnes church by Rev. Francis X. Bransfield with Rev. Leo McCann as deacon and Rev. Joseph P. Murphy as subdeacon. The bearers were two of Mr. Casserly's brothers—Patrick Casserly and Bernard Casserly; John Magee, James Maguire, Humphrey Sullivan, and Hugh McShane. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Mr. Casserly, who died on Tuesday, was born in County Roscommon, Ireland, nearly sixty-five years ago. He had made his home in Arlington for more than eight years. Surviving him are his widow, Annie Maguire Casserly, and seven children—John Casserly of Hemlock street, Miss Margaret Casserly, Thomas Casserly, Paul Casserly of Roxbury, Joseph Casserly, Mrs. Alice Donovan of Brighton and Frances Casserly.

The Selectmen closed the warrants for both the special and the annual Town Meetings Monday evening.

MRS. JAMES ROCHE

The funeral of Mrs. Catherine H. Roche, the widow of James Roche was held from her late home, 9 Lewis avenue, yesterday morning. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated in St. Agnes' church. MRS. JAMES H. HOYT

The death of Mrs. Nora M. Hoyt, the widow of James Henry Hoyt, occurred suddenly last Friday of heart disease, in her home, 53 Randolph street. vate Wives", attributed to Noel Coward. The cast included: Fay, Miss Nancy Webb; Nicky, Prescott Baston; George H. Sydney Hegh; George I. Russell T. Hamlet. Coached by Elizabeth Hoxie.

This presentation proved to be ultra-modern as the usual triangle became a quadrangle.

The third, called the "Strange Inner-Feud", was written in the style of Eugene O'Neill by William F. Homer, Jr. and proved to be by far the most unique. The author suffered nothing by comparison with the English playwright. The cast: Charlie Marsden, Philip Burt; Nina, M. Manning; Ned Darrell, Russell T. Hamlet; and Gordon Prescott Baston. This was coached by Marjorie Manning.

The play indicated a spiritual interpretation of the hereafter; more according to what A. Conan Doyle might have written.

The fourth called "Chassis" as Sean O'Casey might write it, included in the cast: Bridget Maloney, Roberta Bailey; Michael McCormick, Edward W. Centre; Norah Reilly, Lillian Rice; A British Tommie, Prescott Baston. Vivian and Herbert Ellison coached the production. The Irish gossip resulted in two less Blighters.

The fifth, "Every Woman Goes," was written in the style of J. M. Barrie. The cast included Maggie, Lillian Morine; David, James Snow; John, J. K. Berry, Jr.; coached by Lillian Morine.

A bottle for a Scotchman is a sufficient substitute for a wife. After all one wife is as good as another.

The sixth, by the name of "Shadows," was assembled by John K. Berry from Ernest Benishimol's plays, so it was excusable that Mr. Benishimol, who was in the audience should be audibly amused to hear his own lines so arranged. The cast: the woman, Beatrice Ring; the lover, Prescott Baston; and the husband, Paul White. This was coached by Madeline Lyle.

Mr. Benishimol likes darkness. This made the mistaken identity easy to accomplish.

Mrs. John O. Matthews, president, conducted the meeting; Mrs. Arthur W. Sampson, secretary, submitted her report; John K. Winner presented the treasurer's report and submitted 39 names for membership. Mr. Harold B. Wood, Mrs. John O. Matthews and Russell Curry spoke in behalf of coming events.

DR. ANDREWS SPEAKS AT FIRST DISCUSSION GROUP

draws, at one time Professor of Diplomacy at the University of Prague, as the first speaker of the series.

Dr. Andrews gave his topic as "International Affairs", but owing to the short time allowed to cover the subject, said he would limit his remarks to a question which had been asked him many times—What is the likelihood of war in the world today?

Dr. Andrews then took up the possibilities of war as viewed in a brief survey of the globe. He found little or no sign of war in North America, Mexico, Central America or in South America in general. Next he passed to Europe and stated that the Europe of today in nearer normalcy than it had been for five centuries.

Approaching the Far East, Dr. Andrews said that it is curious how many experts agree that the most likely theatre for war is Manchuria and Eastern Siberia and that a war between Russia and Japan is probable. However, before drawing any conclusions, he would like to be correctly informed on three points: the strength of the military party's grip on Japan, the financial strength of Japan, and the strength of the Chinese government at Nanking.

The question period which followed centered on a comparison of Hitler and Mussolini and Hitler's treatment of the Jews.

Arlington Kiwanis Club

Meets Every Thursday Noon
at Wyman's Tavern

Our speaker this week was Mr. John Trefarri, Supt. of Good Will Industries of the Morgan Memorial who gave a most interesting talk on things pertaining to his work.

The club paid tribute to our President, Allan Cowie by dedicating a song in his honor. (The Little Prairie Flower).

A new Co-operative Bank Account was started this week for the new born of Franklin Wyman, it being the usual custom.

We understand that this son of Franklin's is to be named "Steve."

We understand from Allan Kimball that the passengers in his car the night of the inter-club meeting at Newton started a bonfire to keep themselves warm. We expect that he will submit a bill to the club for damage done! (Who started the ice-house fire?)
